MEETING

Antony Hamilton and Alisdair Macindoe (Australia)

US Premiere | Co-Presented by La MaMa and PS122

Two performers share space with 64 robotic instruments. A relentless stream of activity unfolds, where the bodies enter states of heightened physical and mental agency, with all actions carried by the meditative pulse of the machine beat. MEETING reveals a fascination with the articulation of the body and mind in motion. A choreographic study stripped to the bare essentials, the work pairs Hamilton's compulsive choreography and unique physical grammar with Macindoe's obsessive machine-making practice. MEETING composes the body, space and robots into a riveting choreographic soundscape of technical mastery at its finest.

REAL MAGIC

Forced Entertainment (UK) | US Premiere

Co-Presented by La MaMa and PS122 | PS122 Spalding Gray Award Commission

Caught in a world of second-chances and second-guesses, variations and changes, distortions and transformations, Real Magic takes you on a hallucinatory journey, creating a compelling performance about optimism, individual agency and the desire for change. In Real Magic, Forced Entertainment creates a world of absurd disconnection, struggle and comical repetition. To the sound of looped applause and canned laughter, a group of performers take part in an impossible illusion – part mind-reading feat, part cabaret act, part chaotic game show – in which they are endlessly replaying the moment of defeat and the moment of hope.

CUSTODIANS OF BEAUTY

Pavel Zuštiak / Palissimo | Presented by La MaMa in partnership with PS122

For decades in the humanities, various arguments have been put forth against beauty. Where do we find beauty today, and does it need our defense? Bessie Award-winning choreographer/director Pavel Zuštiak and his Palissimo Company examine beauty and its intrinsic relationship with art through minimalist movement, sensuous abstraction and potent stage imagery. Drawn from a dark Eastern-European dance-theater aesthetic, this richly postmodern dance/live music event casts the human body as a sculptural form, an emotional trigger or a political symbol. In an age when humanity, disenchanting with itself, seems to have rejected the necessity of beauty, Custodians of Beauty asks us to look again beyond the surface.

PIECE FOR PERSON AND GHETTO BLASTER

Nicola Gunn (Australia) | US Premiere | Co-Presented by La MaMa and PS122

Piece for Person and Ghetto Blaster is the story of a man, a woman and a duck. The work is disarmingly simple but gradually becomes mind-bendingly complex as it explores in depth the moral conundrum of what one should do. Accompanying the text is a rhythmic electronic soundscape and intense physical choreography, shifting from the unnecessary and incongruous to the comic and strangely affecting. Gunn brings into question intervention ethics with a confrontational muse on peace and conflict, moral relativism and the function of art.

BASTARD

(THE PAINTED BIRD: PART 1)

Palissimo Company | Concept, Direction, Choreography, Set and Costume Design

Pavel Zuštiak | Creating Performer Jaro Viňarský

A Bosch-like story of a wandering boy abandoned by his parents during World War II, The Painted Bird is a dark masterpiece that examines the proximity of terror and savagery to innocence and love. Its central scene—a man captures a bird and paints it brilliant colors then frees it to return to its flock, only to watch it be violently killed by its own kind as a perceived interloper—anchors this poetic outcry on otherness, belonging and human nature.

The award winning Slovak-American choreographer and director Pavel Zuštiak revisits Bastard (The Painted Bird: Part 1) in this 2017 version together with composer and musician Christian Frederickson. They are joined on stage by Slovak dancer Jaro Vinarsky, the 2013 Bessie Award Winner in the Outstanding Performer category for this role.

ADA: AUTHOR DIRECTING AUTHOR

Written and Directed by Neil LaBute / Marco Calvani / Marta Buchaca

US Premiere

Following the success of the first two editions of AdA - Author directing Author – which resulted from a collaboration between the American and Italian writers/directors Neil LaBute and Marco Calvani, and culminated in the presentation of international premieres of four new plays performed in three different languages, the Spanish writer and director Marta Buchaca joins AdA for the third edition of the project. After HOME and DESIRE, this third edition of AdA revolves around the theme of POWER. Each playwright has written a one-act play that one of the other writers will direct. These three US premieres will be performed together in a single show.

GOLGOTHA

Written by Shmuel Rafael | Directed by Geula Jeffet-Attar

Albert Salvado, a Holocaust Survivor, relives the atrocities of the concentration camps as he prepares for his long awaited dream to come true: lighting the torch at the annual Holocaust commemoration ceremony at Yad Vashem in Jerusalem. However, the intense guilt and pain surrounding being chosen as the torch bearer makes Albert question not only his right to the honor of lighting the torch but also his identity as a Sephardic Jew. Coinciding with World Holocaust Day (January 27) Golgotha is a one man show performed in English by Victor Attar.

DAVID'S FRIEND

Written and performed by Nora Burns | Directed by Adrienne Truscott

David's Friend is a fast-paced multi-media show that celebrates friendship, fun, freaks, fag hags, youthful passion, changing times, aging, emotions, memories, music and Manhattan. David's Friend is a coming of age story, a love story, a loss story and a New York story, a story we all know and experience in some way and, as David would say, "a story that just gets better with the telling." Dramaturgy by Lucy Sexton (Dancenoise), artistic direction by Tal Yarden and visual collaboration by Len Whitney, featuring Billy Hough.

HI-FI | WI-FI | SCI-FI PREDICTIONS PAST PRESENT AND FUTURE

Written by Robert Patrick | Directed by Billy Clark and Jason Trucco
World Premiere

In the 60s and 70s, Robert Patrick, one of La MaMa's first playwrights, led an underground movement that questioned the future through a series of quirky, minimalist science-fiction plays. For La MaMa's 55th season, CultureHub and the Seoul Institute of the Arts re-stage these original scripts, not as vintage nostalgia but as startlingly contemporary works that question what the theatre of the future might look like.

Hi-Fi | Wi-Fi | Sci-Fi is a fragile, risky research project performed live across time zones and international borders, between broadcast studios and bedrooms. Witty, urbane and sexy, you'll laugh like hell and see our digital lives in a whole new light.

CALDERON'S TWO DREAMS

Created by George Drance and the Magis Theatre Company with original music by Elizabeth Swados | World Premiere

Calderon's Two Dreams is a repertory performance of two classics by Pedro Calderon de la Barca. His first masterpiece Life is a Dream (1635) deals with questions of freedom and choice in a confusing reality. As his career soared, he felt the need to go deeper into his own spirit and completely re-wrote it to examine more profound questions. In Life is a Dream (1677) the setting changes to the court of the universe. The central question of the earlier version, "will this prince be a fitting ruler?" changes in the later version to become "is the human being a fitting caretaker of the universe?"

Magis Theatre Company is an actor-driven, physically based ensemble known for making classical works enjoyable and accessible to contemporary audiences.

RIOT ANTIGONE

A Hannah Greene and J. Mehr Kaur Production
Created and Directed by Seonjae Kim

Riot Antigone is Seonjae Kim's new take on Sophocles' tragedy, told from the perspective of a Chorus Leader and her all-female punk band, reminiscent of the 90s' Riot Grrrl movement and iconic bands like Bikini Kill, Sleater-Kinney and Bratmobile. Through explosive live music, percussive movement and primal poetry, a chorus of young women tell the myth of Antigone through a feminist lens. A ritualistic and passionate coming of age story as well as an intimate rock concert, Riot Antigone is about the power of an individual who dares to carry a revolution herself.

THE MAIDS

By L'Atelier Theatre Productions | Directed by Oliver Henzler

Musical Composition by Leah Lawrence

Every night, the maids stage a fantasized revolution against their mistress Madame. Every night they fail miserably. But one night they take a step into reality. They plot against Monsieur and had the police lock him up. Family and class wars unfold.

This new production of Les Bonnes, the Maids by Jean Genet in the original French, captures the grim substance of the sisters' relationship while dissecting the brutal social powers at play. The ensemble's rich world of physical symbolism and bursts of sound and song create a visceral experience, while elements of play and surprise catapult us into the here and now of Genet's classic. This piece will have supertitles.

THE MOUNTAIN BIRD

Grusomhetens Teater (Theater of Cruelty) – Norway | US Premiere

The Mountain Bird ("Fjeldfuglen") is an evening-length staging of Henrik Ibsen's 1859 unfinished opera libretto, which received its world-premiere in 2009 by the Grusomhetens Teater (Theater of Cruelty). Directed by Lars Oeyno and featuring an original score by Filip Sande, this avant-garde opera's romantic narrative is inspired by a medieval Norwegian legend of a woman discovered to be the sole survivor of the Black Death.

Grusomhetens Teater (Theater of Cruelty) produced its first performance in collaboration with Trøndelag Theatre in 1989 and was established as a separate group in 1992. The company has performed at festivals and stages in Japan, Russia, Turkey, Germany, Poland, England, Sweden, India and France.

ONE-IN-THEMSELVES

Conceived, Directed, and Performed by Sophie Bortolussi and Sara Galassini
World Premiere

One-in-Themselves is a multidisciplinary theater performance presenting a multi-faceted portrait of the modern woman: the daily struggle to be heard, the daring to speak out, the hope to feel powerful and unapologetic, the doubt of being desirable and yet the fear of objectification. One-in-Themselves is a physical and vocal venture that employs Bortolussi's expertise in immersive theater, choreography and somatic practices, and Galassini's experience in theater for social change, music composition and poetry.

THE LAST DAYS OF JUDAS ISCARIOT

Written by Stephen Adly Guirgis
Directed by Estelle Parsons | Actors Studio

History's most famous double-cross is under the microscope in the provocative and irreverently funny The Last Days of Judas Iscariot by Stephen Adly Guirgis, directed by Academy Award-winner, Estelle Parsons. Set in a criminal court, Judas is on trial for his betrayal of Christ, his soul hanging in the balance as a trove of historic witnesses, including Freud, Mother Teresa, Satan and Pontius Pilate, deliver their testimony with raw honesty and scathing humor. As the play unfolds, we are forced to examine our own ideals and ideas of love, divine mercy, free will and forgiveness, coupled with the notion that evil may not be the presence of hate, but rather the absence of compassion.

Describing The Last Days of Judas Iscariot's short run at the Actors Studio in January 2016, the Huffington Post said, "When Estelle Parsons produces work like this, you just have to say amen." This full production at La MaMa's Ellen Stewart Theatre marks the Actors Studio's 70th and La MaMa's 55th anniversary, and the first time the Studio performs outside its own walls in New York City.

SPRINGTIME IN NICKYLAND

Curated by Nicky Paraiso | US Premiere

In the spirit of rebirth, renewal and the resurrection of the spirit, curator and emcee Nicky Paraiso addresses the current political and social climate in a serious attempt to investigate and celebrate the origins of cabaret. Although the 19th-century French definition referred to any business serving liquor, a cabaret in the early 20th century was an informal saloon or safe place, as it were, where poets, artists and composers could share ideas and compositions, present new works-in-progress and decry the political ills of the day. Exemplary writers, including David Cale, Jessica Hagedorn, Margo Jefferson, Edgar Oliver and Laurie Stone, are invited to respond to recent life-changing and transformational events while songs continue to be sung with entertaining consequence.

BENGAZI – BERGEN-BELSEN

Written by Labov Timor | Directed by Michal Gamily | World Premiere

Benghazi – Bergen-Belsen is an original play loosely inspired by a novel of the same name. Tracing the story of the Jews of Libya, the play gives voice to a larger cultural narrative that is conspicuously absent from prevalent stories of the Jewish Holocaust. By examining the marginalized racial politics of the Holocaust, the show urges us to reconsider historical and contemporary religious, cultural and racial oppression and violence. Underscoring the contemporary urgency of the story, the play features both historical and present-day images of New York, Europe, Africa and the Middle East.

CONSENSUAL RELATIONSHIPS WITH GHOSTS

Written and Directed by Susana Cook | Sound Design by Julian Mesri

The real story of a king who was actually a queen, sent into exile, imprisoned in Athens and found 45 years later in Argentina at a tomb contest. After a frenetic chain of mutations, transitions and transformations, it is discovered that nobody is actually dead. We are all present somehow as a ghost in somebody else's life. In this witty and funny magical realist play, Susana Cook redefines presence, the energy of the people who inhabit our lives, the ghosts of our past and the ones who are not present but still follow us everywhere.

THE ROOM SINGS

*By Talking Band | Written and Directed by Paul Zimet, Music by Ellen Maddow
World Premiere*

A room in a country house sings of those who have lived there over a span of seventy years. Performed with striking theatricality by Obie-award winning Talking Band using an array of genres – 40's Noir, Chinese Ghost Tale, Chekhovian Farce/Tragedy and a Sicilian Puppet Opera sung by beavers - their stories intertwine and illuminate each other.

Talking Band has been making innovative and influential theater works in New York for 41 years. With its commitment to radical collaboration and to the fusion of diverse theatrical styles and perspectives, it has influenced generations of artists, both experimental and mainstream, even in art forms beyond theater.

LINTEL, MANTEL, MODULE, SHELF

Lauren Bakst & Yuri Masnyj, Elliott Jerome Brown, Mary-Ann Monforton, GaHee Park, Isaac Pool, Alan Ruiz

Curated by Samuel Draxler

The sites we inhabit on a day-to-day basis are structured by methods of design and construction that increasingly involve modular architecture, flat-pack furniture and a constellation of pre-fab, standardized and replaceable components. Within the context of sites structured by these functional, cost-saving practices, Lintel, Mantel, Module, Shelf focuses on works in which artists co-opt materials and motifs to evade or undermine the conventions of the domestic, industrial and aesthetic spaces they inhabit.

Some of the included works play with the reusability of parts, and the exhibition's title performs this same slipperiness, enumerating four possible roles that a horizontal board might take: as a lintel, a load-bearing building component that spans two vertical supports; as a mantel, the decorative finish above a fireplace; as a module, a standardized part designed to be produced in mass; or as a shelf, furniture onto which personal effects are stored or displayed.

Lintel, Mantel, Module, Shelf considers how the structuring of a space can be understood as metaphor, and how sterilized sites can be reclaimed for alternative, intimate or symbolic purposes.

HA HA FRESH

Adriana Farmiga

For her latest solo project with La MaMa, Adriana Farmiga presents Ha Ha Fresh—a body of work including drawings and sculptures. The exhibition, centered around the theme of “the bodega”, considers this ubiquitous urban corner shop as a site located between archive and social space. In the same way a bodega can centralize and serve a community, while simultaneously revealing its relationship with immigration and urban transitions, Farmiga’s site-specific installation speaks to her own personal inventory of identity and (auto)biography.

I WANT TO GO HOME: ARE YOU MY MOTHER?

Nora Breen

With this Installation, Nora Breen explores the nature of reality as it relates to the current scientific exploration of the Simulation Hypothesis and the mystery of consciousness. The project addresses feelings of isolation, confusion, wonder and primal ecstasy that are a part of the human condition wherein we don’t know “why we are here” and where “here” is.

The show features a sound environment by Liz Swados.

Between June and August, students and teachers reside at La MaMa Umbria, a 700-year-old historic building that has been transformed into a work center and artists' residence. It is located in the Umbrian hillside just outside the town of Spoleto, less than two hours from Rome. Immersed in the creative, natural, and regenerative environment of Umbria, culturally diverse artists live together while working on productions or participating in workshops to develop their artistic skills.

EDUCATIONAL PARTNERS

SARAH LAWRENCE COLLEGE

Every Friday, Global Theatre Class students from Sarah Lawrence visit La MaMa to attend workshops with a La MaMa artist and to see a production in one of La MaMa's performance venues.

TRINITY/LA MAMA

The Trinity/La MaMa Program utilizes the landscape and history of New York City as a catalyst for an intensive study in the arts. The semester is structured to provide full immersion in the New York City theatre, dance and performance communities as well as other arts genres with the goal of fostering artistic, academic and personal growth. Students participate in La MaMa artist workshops and internships.

EUGENE LANG COLLEGE, THE NEW SCHOOL UNIVERSITY FOR LIBERAL ARTS

Eugene Lang has had a close partnership with La MaMa for more than a decade. Theatre courses have utilized La MaMa's Archives to enhance student curricula. Every year, Eugene Lang Alumni gather at La MaMa to showcase new work that has been inspired by La MaMa's rich theatre history.

SEOUL INSTITUTE OF THE ARTS

Seoul Institute of the Arts is a leading arts institution in Korea, educating more than 2,400 students and creative professionals in 14 different artistic disciplines. Every season La MaMa and Seoul Institute of the Arts bring Korean students to La MaMa for a four-month internship. In 2009, La MaMa and SIA founded CultureHub together.

LA MAMA ARCHIVES

THE ELLEN STEWART PRIVATE COLLECTION

Ozzie Rodriguez | Archive Director

Established in the early 1970's, La MaMa Archives collects, preserves, and exhibits records of permanent historical value relating to La MaMa and the Off-Off Broadway movement. In doing so, it draws on a deep vein of in-house institutional memory, the passionate community of artists whose work has found a home on La MaMa stages, and a diversity of scholars, educators and international artists with whom we regularly collaborate.

“It is impossible to exaggerate how crucial the [La MaMa] archive is to the stories of American theatre, New York City, and innumerable facets of creative culture and the wider social currents this work traced and fomented.”

– Alisa Solomon, Theatre Scholar and Author

La MaMa's collections offer an intimate perspective on major social, aesthetic, and political movements of the 20th and 21st centuries that resonate with histories of peoples across the globe. Where else would you find original plays by Vietnam War veterans alongside video of performances about the AIDS crisis; unpublished scripts by Japanese filmmaker Shuji Terayama alongside photos and correspondence by Polish revolutionary director Tadeusz Kantor? A portion of these materials are available for viewing on our new Digital Collections website, catalog.lamama.org.

First Thursdays: La MaMa Archives is open to the public on the first Thursday of every month from 5:30pm - 7pm

La MaMa Archives regularly conducts tours for student groups and is open to the public Monday through Friday from 1pm - 4pm BY APPOINTMENT. For more information please contact Archives Director, Ozzie Rodriguez at 212-260-2471 or email archives@lamama.org.
